ANTONY GORMLEY: DRAWINGS 1981-2001, GALERIE THADDAEUS ROPAC, PARIS, 2008

07 May - 07 June 2008

An exhibition of Antony Gormley's drawings, encompassing work from the last two decades - from his compositions using oil and pigment on paper, through earth and rabbit skin glue in the 1980s, to the chemical aniline dyes of the late 1990s. The exhibition celebrated his use of wide-ranging materials to evoke states of becoming.
