

ANTONY GORMLEY

WITH SPACE IN MIND: SCULPTOR'S PRINTS, ALAN CRISTEA GALLERY, LONDON, ENGLAND, 2015

19 November - 23 December 2015

This exhibition featured work by nine sculptors: Eduardo Chillida, Richard Deacon, Richard Long, David Nash, Mimmo Paladino, Richard Serra and Rachel Whiteread.

The prints on display, across both gallery spaces, explored the interplay between the two-dimensional and three-dimensional, and included works that directly reference sculpture, or explore the physical process of making a print. All these artists are best known for their sculpture and their approach to printmaking is unique: it is physical, it is tactile, it is about process and material, object as well as image. The exhibition included etching and aquatint, lithography, stencil, carborundum relief, photogravure and woodcut.

Antony Gormley exhibited three prints from the 2007 Copenhagen Series.
