12 September 2013 - 24 February 2014

MASTERPIECES: ART AND EAST ANGLIA celebrated the rich and distinctive artistic heritage of the region, with works that ranged from archaeological finds to contemporary design. Comprising some 200 objects loaned from over fifty major public and private collections, the exhibition showcased the array of masterworks the region has inspired, produced and collected, as well as treasures that have been long associated with the area.

This exhibition featured an installation of one of Gormley's cast iron works: SHRIVE VIII (2010).
