11 July - 2 September 2018

MEMORY PALACE is a major group exhibition extending across White Cube's London galleries in Bermondsey and Mason's Yard.

Featuring more than 90 recent works by over 40 artists, MEMORY PALACE seeks to inspire reflections on the forms and themes of memory. The exhibition's architecture leads the viewer through six aspects of memory: Historical (at White Cube Mason's Yard), Autobiographical, Traces, Transcription, Collective and Sensory (at White Cube Bermondsey).

Antony Gormley presents two works, INTO THE LIGHT, 1986-87 and SCAFFOLD X, 2017.
